John Bradley who has worked his heart out as Chairman of the Rationing Board WITHOUT PAY, and thru whose efforts, which have not heretofore been recognized or publicized, the county school trucks were permitted to get rubber, was offered a $3200.00 a year part time job with the Rent Control Authority and was found fully eligible and acceptable; but, when it was found out that he was head of the FREE Rationing Board, "hell no" was the substance of the reply to his application. That's a hell of a note, not to reward some fellow who has already been cussed out, deviled to death and harassed, and has lost business working FREE.

Some man who, possibly has not turned his hand in the war effort, will get this good job.

I am in favor of a reasonable rent control, but if it is to be controlled at such cost that it will further push the government into the receiver's hand, the method had better be simplified and more economy exercised in financing it.

This country has almost been ruined by extravagance in government. Most folks are against waste but say, "Course Willie has a good job with it," or "it's going to be wasted anyhow, let me have a get it." This encroachment has been so insidious that we are no longer a free people.

I here want to commend Brother Jones of the Star for his bold stand on the question. I would not publish that long article except for the fact that some one unwittingly might get caught in the trap.

The M. P. detachment on duty Monday night had a little job, that of jailing two MP's off duty.

Captain F. W. Waite, Intelligence Officer of the staff of the Post Commander came in Wednesday to smell of printer's ink again.

Old man J. L. Townes was caught working Wednesday.

Yes, the honeymoon is over. Gas rationing on November 9. Private homes likely to be commendeered by the government. Making a legal record of the buying of a five-cent plow bolt. Meat getting scarce. EVERY patriotic citizen is willing to do whatever is necessary to prosecute the war.

Yet, with waste going on everywhere one sofetifes wonders whatthehell will happen. Washington's slogan evidently is "To hell with money. We have plenty of that or can print it."

I could not but be impressed with the cartoon in the CA Wednesday. A young man 18-19 said, "I am ready, but what of them," pointing to thousands of other young men working in the useless bureaus? The members of the latter group, like the arm chair officers of the army and navy, are merely political favorites sitting safe and comfortable in Washington, doing utterly useless work (?), and having a hell of a time fiddling, fooling and frolicking.

Aint they sweet.

One tangible result of the formation of the autocratic rental bureau came to light today. A man who was preparing to take some roomer into his home said "hell no, if I have to find out from Morrow, et al what I can charge and be deviled to death, I will not have anyone." He was a man who does not need the rental money, and the type which has the only remaining available rooms.

Mighty sorry to hear of the serious condition of two of our best citizens, J. T. Thomas and Claud Perry.

Maybe, since they are soon to take the 18-19 year old boys, they will get to some of the apparently overlooked single men who registered in the first registration.

Brother John D. Pellett, Superintendent for Jones Construction Company, has passed another mile stone in life's rough journey. Congratulations.

As a present from her mother, Miss Frances Turnbo, of Jackson, will receive the GCW.

Kenneth Tolar indicates in his column Sunday that Bilbo refused to let bygones be bygones when Jim Eastland, his colleague-elect, offered the olive branch. That's bad for the State of Mississippi. We get little enough when the two senators work in harmony; we will get nothing when they pull against each other.

Sometimes I wish I was down on a pier at Biloxi feeding shrimp to the croakers and cat fish.

LETS WELCOME OUR NEW STUDENTS

How many of you students have looked around you lately? Did you see any unfamiliar faces—and if you did, did you do anything about it? As this school year goes on, more and more new students will be coming into our school. Those of you who have ever left your own home town and gone to a strange school will remember the lost feeling you had! To look around you into a sea of curious faces, and not one of them familiar! Of course, it's natural for us to feel curious about these new-comers, but make it a friendly curosity. One word of kindness or show of interest may give them words of cheer. Of course, we all have our own special friends and cliques, but remember the old saying, "There's always room for one more." The students of Grenada High have always considered it a special event for one new student to enter the school for this year, as more and more come in, there will be more and more for us to do toward making them happy. We think we have the finest school anywhere, and it's up to us to make them feel that same way. Some of them may come from an entirely different section of the country from ours, thy may speak differently, but remember, underneath they're just plain scarget high school "teensters" who need a little help in becoming adjusted.

So come on, Grenada High; wake up and glance around you. If you see a strange face, strike up a conversation with the owner; you may find a truer friend than you ever dreamed of having!

G. H. S. GATHERS SCRAP

Grenada High has really "turned out" this week in an all out drive for scrap. Anyone who drives by the south side of the high school building will readily realize this fact. Day by day, through the work of the high school boys, the pile has grown by leaps and bounds. This could not have been done without the help of the residents of Grenada, who generously lent their trucks to be used in the drive. The town was divided into sections, and a 'truck' loaded with boys was sent to each section to pick up all the scrap available, and, judging by the size of the pile in its last stages, plenty of scrap was available. The latest addition to the pile are an old car and tractor, which are a very appropriate finish for our scrap drive.

To these firms: Oliver-Lilly, Revell Furniture Co., Moss Motor Co., and Lockett Lumber Co., and to Messrs W. O. Geeslin, J. P. Boyle, Sr., John Henley, Willie Lee Wilson, and Miss Margaret Cannon, Grenada High offers thanks for trucks and cars used in collesting the metal.

All who in any way contributed to the success of the scrap drive contributed also to our winning the war.

JUNIOR McDOWELL CLUB HOLDS FIRST MEETING

Thursday night at 7:30, the Junior McDowell Music Club met for the first time this year. The meeting was at the home of Margaret Green (the president). To the pleasure of the old members and to the embarrassment of the new members, this first meeting was the invitation program. The new members are Warren Robinson, Gere Gwin, Mary Jane Perry, Helen Dubad, May Nell Rayburn, and Josephine Barranco. Our lovely hostesses, Mrs. Green and Miss Green, did the impossible in getting for the refreshments the liquid gold, Coca-Colas, not to mention the wonderful sandwiches. Why even Margaret Spain ate! Imagine that!

After the initiation and refreshments, Miss Donaldson gave the history of the club and cited the ambition and goals for the coming year. It was decided that the roll call is again this year to be answered by some musical note or interesting musical fact.

We voted unanimously to keep our $10 in war stamps left over from last year, andto put forth effort in endeavoring to make it an $18.75 bond.

OUR BAND

(Intended for last week)

We are sure all Grenadaians who attetnded the football game Friday night were proud of our excellent band.

The band was divided into two sections, coming, one from the north and one from the south of the field, while the drums were stationed on the east.

After the two sections had met and formed their lines, they made a B for Batesville.

ANY dining room may be made fresh and smart with built-in cupboards, a little paint and inexpensive curtains. But what may be done to bring a set of outmoded chairs up-to-date? The one sketched at the upper right is typical of many that are substantial and sturdy though scarred by use.

If your chairs do not have the supports shown at the sides of the seat they will be easier to slipcover. This cover is of medium blue cotton rep with darker blue for the bias binding and the cotton fringe around the bottom. Large button moulds are covered with the slip cover material for the button-up-the-back opening. If you are not expert at making bound buttonholes, snaps may be used under the buttons. The narrow ties sewn to the corners of the inside of the seat cover hold it neatly in place.

NOTE: This chair cover is from Book 5 of the homemaking booklets available to readers at 10 cents each. Directions for other dining room chair transformations will be found in BOOK 7, together with an interesting array of conservation ideas which make use of materials around the home. GROWTH IN CHRIST

LESSON TEXT—Luke 2:40-52; II Peter 1:1-8.

GOLDEN TEXT—But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.—II Peter 3:18.

Growth is a normal thing. We expect it of the child, and when it fails we know that something is wrong. Just so there is something very decidedly wrong in the life of the Christian who fails to grow in grace. If a child fails to grow we are alarmed, but if a Christian does not grow we hardly notice it, or at most only express our regret. We need a revial.

I. Normal Children Will Grow (Luke 2:40-52).

While Christ was God manifest in the flesh, He was at the same time true man, and as a boy He developed and grew in a normal way.

Unless we meet the tragedy of arrested development we need have no concern about the fact that a child will grow physically, mentally and spiritually. The Lord has placed in the babe in a mother's arms the potential qualities of the man or woman to come. Our chief responsibility is to provide the opportunity for the development of those abilities and qualities which the child has, and of guiding that growth in the right direction.

That is all a parent has to do, but it is enough to call for all the wisdom, judgment, patience and skill of the best of us. Yes, and even that is not enough, we need the wisdom of God and His grace upon our lives to do this vital work as we ought.

The qualities in a boy or girl which will count gloriously for God may be dreadfully effective for Satan if we permit him to get control of our children. May God help us to be alert and skillful in rearing our boys and girls.

While it is true that we can do more for the guidance of physical and mental growth than spiritual (because that is a matter of the grace of God), we can lead the steps of the little child to the house of God; we can teach him to pray and to trust God, and we can set an example of godly living before him. That is all we can do; but again we say, it is enough to demand our best effort and more.

II. Normal Christians Will Grow (II Pet. 1:1-8).

In Christ there are "all things that pertain unto life and godliness." There is no need of some added experience, or some new and striking enducement, for all the unbelievably great possibilities of Christian grace and growth are in Him. We need only to recognize that fact and yield to Him, and there will be the full development of Christian life and experience.

We have, in practice, so far departed from the normal in Christian life that we can hardly believe that the above is true. In place of the normal Christian life according to God's standard, we have established a standard based on the average Christian life. If we equal it we are satisfied, and if perchance we surpass it we count ourselves among the "more spiritual" ones. And all the time the average standard is far below the normal Christian life which God not only expects, but is ready to enable and empower us to live.

Peter tells us in this passage that the great and precious promises of God in Christ are not only to enable us to escape the corruption of this sinful world, but to go on to a place where we will neither "be barren nor unfruitful" Christians. How will this come about? Verses 5-7 tell us.

Faith supplies in itself (rather than "add to," v. 5), if there is "diligence" (that is, true Christian devotion), a number of other splendid qualities. First comes "virtue"—really moral courage, or nobility of character. What a fine step forward! Then comes "knowledge," that is, a discernment which will give practical skill in effective daily living for Christ. Such spiritual discernment will naturally lead to "self-control" — something much needed by most Christians.

The self-cont lled one will always have "patienc " that is, the endurance to stand every hardship and trial. We need to be more patient not only with others, but also with ourselves, even in this matter of Christian growth of which we are speaking.

A life like that is a life of "godliness," which will blossom out into real "brotherly kindness." There isn't too much of that in the world today, even among Christians. Let's revive it! Then what? The one who loves his brother will love the whole world (charity, in v. 8, should read "love"). Why not? Are we not all brethren, who know Christ, regardless of race, position or creed?

Let such virtues "abound" (v. 8), and no Christian life will lack in rich fruitfulness for God in Christ. If Christian people would let the new life within them grow, it would surprise us and them what God would do through them for His own glory.

Navy Carries War to Japs In Fogbound Aleutian Isles

The Japs are in the Aleutians; where is found the worst and most dangerous flying and sailing weather in the world. However, our navy is after them, and it blasted the main Jap stronghold on Kiska island the very same day the battle for the Solomon islands began.

No attempt will be made here to tell the continuing story of the U. S. navy's heroic efforts to blast the emperor's little brown men from the fog-shrouded islands that lie off Alaska. "The record," says Secretary of the Navy Knox, "speaks for itself."

Right: Maj. B. M. Coffenberg, USMC, commanding the marines at Sitka, prepares a field message while attending a conference with his officers. All wear water-repellent clothing, gas masks and steel helmets.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—it's itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

BOYCE MANN groaned inwardly as Flora Walters pushed her chair back from her brilliant dinner table with her regular invitation:

"Now, people, let's get set for a good game of bridge!"

Ordinarily Boyce did not object to bridge, especially bridge with opponents that played as quietly and cleverly as Flora and Fred. But Flora's soft pink hands moving languidly across a bridge table pained Boyce.

This was rather odd, for Flora's hands were plump and beautifully manicured; but they carried a burden of jewels that raked Boyce's soul with their many fangs of light.

He never dared look up from the cards on the table lest Bea, his wife, or the Walters, would read the agony passing through his mind. He knew how Bea felt, too, and that made the ache of his much worse.

The game flagged for a moment as the women lighted cigarettes. Fred, fumbling through his pockets for his lighter, pulled out a diamond ring which he handed to Flora, remarking as he laid it in her soft and scented hand, "Got this today, on a trade-in of cars. How do you like it?"

Flora grunted amiably through short satisfied puffs of smoke as she turned the ring around aimlessly and said after a careless inspection:

"I guess it'll do but I don't want it, Fred. It doesn't match a thing I have, and I'd never wear it."

Bea gave an eager, stifled gasp as Flora indolently tossed the ring over to her to examine. As it lay in her palm, quivering and gleaming in its own veil of glory, Flora genially suggested:

"Try it on, Bea."

Bea glowed with the rapture of a dazzled baby as she slipped the precious bauble on her finger and held her hand up turning it around for each of the others to see.

Fred Walters, smiling indulgently at her delight, said with open, easy cordiality, "Go ahead and keep it, Bea. Flora doesn't want it. Chances are I'll find it a white elephant to dispose of, and even then not realize anything on the transaction."

He offered the gift with quiet and candid dignity. It might have been an apple. His eyes twinkled in pleased response at her happy exclamation.

"Yes, take him up quickly before he changes his mind. That's the way I got these," bantered Flora, with lazy blinding gestures.

Only Boyce sat silent and grave as Bea turned her head and her hand to catch the burning loveliness of the diamond. Her eyes shone. Boyce knew what swept her mind and how terrific the urge of acquisition can be. Hadn't he felt it, this same bitter longing on every birthday, Christmas and other anniversary since their engagement—all of their married life?

His breath stopped for an instant as Bea hesitated. His heart gave a cruel twist, then an exultant leap as Bea coolly drew off the ring and handed it back to Flora, saying with unaffected gratitude:

"I think it's lovely of both of you. But, of course, I just couldn't."

Two hours later Boyce slipped behind her as she sat before her dressing table preparing for bed. She looked very girlish and lovely, lovelier even than he remembered her as his bride.

Memory pierced him. What hadn't he promised to do for Bea then? Yet the years had drifted across the calendar and the most of these deeds remained undone.

How long she had hungered, as she had often said, "For just one diamond."

He knelt beside her and pulled down her fragrant face, kissing her dewy lips and bright eyes.

He chocked miserably.

"Bea darling!"

His voice broke.

Without warning a warm little hand crept into his.

He stammered and trembled as he began again, "Bea, darling! I was so proud of you, so terribly proud of you, and thankful, too, when you turned down that diamond ring that Flora and Fred offered you tonight . . . You poor kid! I know what a sacrifice it was, honey," he went on shakily. But I want to give you your first diamond ring.

"I know how patient you've been, Bea. But if you'll only trust me a little longer . . . you'll have them, Bea. Like the other girls. It was brave . . . fine . . . of you, darling, to turn down that ring."

"What do you mean . . . brave?" demanded Bea rising to face him and laughing brokenly into his bewildered face.

She was exceedingly gallant in that moment as she stood with the muscles of her pretty face as tight as those of a clenched fist, and lied stanchly as she admonished with a hysterical giggle — a giggle that shattered a stifling sob:

"Don't be silly, Boyce darling. I didn't have to be brave. That stone was too small."

Smart Accessories Give Even Your Old Clothes New Beauty

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

IT'S patriotic to be budget-saving in dress during these challenging war times, which mind you, in no wise means that one should sacrifice attractive appearance in practicing economy. On the contrary, one of the greatest services American women can render during these strenuous times is to be cheer-radiating and inspirational in the matter of becoming dress.

More and more women of keen fashion insight are realizing the wisdom of investing in one or two really worthwhile goodlooking costumes made of dependable materials of sterling quality that are smartly styled with utmost simplicity rather than to acquire a lot of shoddy clothes that never seem the right thing to wear to the right place. However, the goodlooking suit or dress tells but half of the dress story. The other half is told in one important word—accessories! It's amazing what magic lies in a flattering hat, important jewelry items, a dramatic use of colorful gloves and belts and bags, in a bright-printed handkerchief, or a spectacular show of intriguing buttons on what might otherwise seem a hopelessly plain dress or suit. There really is no more potent way to chase away an inferiority complex about the dress than the acquisition of flattering accessories.

If you want to know the "last word" in high-fashion jewelry, it's gilded sterling silver. To guarantee yourself a possession that will turn your simplest black frock into an eye-impelling costume, treat yourself to a set of gilded sterling silver jewels designed by Monet as shown to the right above in the illustration. The bracelet, the clip or brooch, each item is so light yet has that expensive look that makes them real conversation pieces.

The tall, sculptured crown and the dramatic brim of the hat worn with this jewelry tells the story of smart millinery for fall. The elegant, initialed suede bag is a masterpiece that is perfectly attuned to the patrician pace set by the entire accessory ensemble.

You can count on buttons to carry gown and coats and blouses to dizzy heights of style distinction. There's nothing smarter this season for buttons than silver, and you can use them to your heart's content for there is no ban on silver. For the buttons that go meandering down the front and over the pockets of the suit shown to the left above, La Mode has molded luck into the sterling silver cloverleaf pieces. These gleam effectively against their dark background. The suit you plan to wear another season can be given a new look with silver buttons.

Below to the right in the group is one of those winsome frocks done in pastel wool that young girls regard as perfect to wear under their new nylon fleece coats. Note the artistry of its stunning large buttons.

The stunning hat shown below to the left in the picture is made of finely pleated and intricately manipulated crepe. A band, Egyptian in design and studded with colorful stones is a color delight. The flowers on the 'kerchief by Burmel pick up the bright hues of the jewel-studded hat band, and the color scheme of costume is perfect. This flower-splashed "hanky" is pure linen, and that's something to brag about these days.

Fur-Trimmed Suit

Just one fur-trimmed suit after another is the prediction for this fall and winter. Suitable for the rather dressy occasion, this soft suit of novelty worsted, made from 100 per cent napthalated wool, is a forerunner of a fashion that is gaining momentum as the colder autumn days approach. Fox fur forms the deep collar and pouch pockets. The skirt is pleated at the front to give the new slimming lines. Pockets of fur such as beaver or the spotted pelts are smart on bright colored wool coats and dresses. The fur-bow neckline is also an outstanding favorite.

Quaint Trimmings Recall Past Era

Many of the quaint trimming effects that were the pride of our ancestors in the early Victorian days and which we find so faithfully recorded in daguerreotypes have been revived in the present fall modes. This is notably so in the way edges of dresses, coats, capes and blouses are being finished off with animated little dangling balls and fringes of varied types. Designers are using cunning bead ball trims and little balls of cord formation, also of wool yarn, and even velvet-covered balls dangle along the edges of yokes, shoulder epaulettes, scarfs and from drawstring bags and about the brims of hats.

Back into the fashion picture, too, have come wee fur tail trims, and quite a little bead fringe is being used. Other trims that are in the news include bows galore and various demure and quaint uses of ribbon. Touches of knit and crochet abound as a trimming feature, and there are some interesting things being done with crocheted metal thread.

The beadwork and sequin embroidery that is being done this season reveals many new and artful uses, with special enthusiasm shown for all over nailhead studded effects.

Temperamental

Watch hemlines! They are growing very temperamental. They dip, they slash, they take upon themselves deftly scalloped or saw-tooth edges, and they capture ruche effects and revel in fringe embellishment. They indulge in band embroidery treatments, and they sometimes achieve drape effects that give them grace and new distinction.

THINGS for You TO MAKE

MOTIFS for baby dominate this transfer—in fact, the entire transfer is devoted to baby. There are sprays of dainty embroidery just right for wee dresses, slips or gertrudes and the scallop patterns might come in handy here also. Ronald, the duck, rides a ric rac wave as bib decoration, or perhaps he'd make a playsuit pocket along with Whiskers, the cat. A cute bunny rabbit is also for appliqueing, and last but not least is Paddlefoot, the duck.

The man was in a great hurry as he stepped aboard the moving staircase in the metropolis department store.

Thinking to gain time, he started to walk down the escalator when his foot slipped and he was off with some speed toward the bottom.

Halfway down he collided with a rather good-sized woman, laden with packages, and knocked her over. Together the two continued to the bottom.

When they arrived there, the woman, still in a somewhat dazed condition, continued to sit on the man's chest.

For a few minutes he looked up at her with an air of resignation. Then he said, politely, "Madam, I'm very sorry, but this is as far as I go."

When they formed a star all the lights were turned out. Each band member had a red bulb in his flash light. The majorettes had a small pocket flashlight on their batons. Thes were flashed on and off or twirled around while several of the cornet players played "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star." The sky to represenb the line combined with the red and white made our natitonal colrs. During the game the band played various numbers, including the Alma Mater. At different times the band was led by the following student conductors: S. R. Cowan, George Granberry, Patty Stockard, Ruth Lee Morrow, Mary Elizabeth Cowan, and Jay Gore.

COMMENDED

Since Laverne Wilson, the president elected at our first meeting, could not serve, Kathryn Hefring was elected president. She named Martha Cullen, Eva Jean Robinson and Gloria Moser as the program committee for the next meeting.

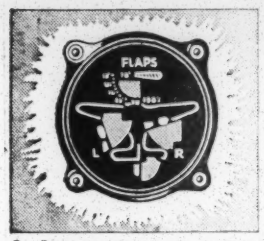
Wings of Victory

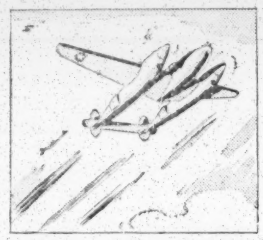
Electricity helps make America's war planes some of the world's most deadly weapons. Here are a few of the ways in which G-E equipment serves in the air.

1. Lamps are the eyes of the plane at night, ranging in size from cockpit lamps no larger than a pea to landing lamps of more than half-a-million candlepower.

2. Radio combines the voice and the ears of the plane, allowing communication between the pilot and his squadron, and the ground and sea forces.



3. Instruments are the sensitive brain that relays messages to the pilot from all parts of the ship and helps him to control the plane in its flight.



4. Superchargers are the lungs of the plane, pumping extra oxygen to the carburetors, giving our planes the altitude so necessary to modern warfare.

Seen, Heard and Told

By The Editor

During the scrap drive in this county, under the leadership of Mr. J. M. Talbert, 571 tons of scrap metal and rubber have been collected and shipped. This figure compares most favorably with figures from most of the other counties. However, many tons are yet hidden away in cellars, garrets, outhouses, turnrows and across rivers and creeks.

We have set a "dead line" of November 1st on the reception of copy for our "All Out for Victory" rotogravure supplement. Those who have repeatedly promised to go to the photographer to have pictures made are most earnestly urged to do so AT ONCE. We have already secured photographs of nearly all outside and inside scenes.

The Grenada County Chamber of Commerce could make no better investment than buying about 2,000 copies of this suplpement which will be a permanent piece of literature, to be held for distribution in the post-war era when Grenada will really need a "shot" to get over the effects of the boom now reaching its heights here.

The government is engaed in cleaning out Bogue and the Yalobusha to the end that the immense amount of sewage coming from the camp can be shot on down the river beyond Grenada at a rapid rate.

As for the Yalobusha dam, I still believe it will be built after the war, but not during the war.

Our respected and venerable friend, Mr. McCormack, recently sent in a renewal by his son, and this is his receipt. He seldom comes to town any more, and is missed by his many friends, including the writer.

The beer and anti-beer forces are lining up for the election Tuesday week.

I am sorry I missed seeing my friend Mr. Red Taylor, when he was here Sunday. They say his eyes are as sharp and piercing as ever. Unostentatiously he has done much good in the world as he doggedly fought his way upward in the business world.

Amie Weir (I do nit know her married name) visited the office this week. She, Margaret Trusty and I were graduated at GHS in 1906—36 years ago—and I had not seen Amie from that day until this week. Much water has run over the mill since that day. I recall that Professor Woodard and I both chewed tobacco and spit out of the classroom windows.

Please, please, please, you folks who promised to have your pictures made, take time off to go to the photographer.

If you do not know anything about these constitutional amendments, vote against them, or merely refrain from voting either way.

Better be buying that new car tag before November 1.

Frances Kent, who has now become an old settled married lady (even if she does not look it) is one of the chaperones who convey bevies of youth and beauty to the USO dances.

Dear Cousin Tunny: I am mighty glad you are getting on better.

Aint they sweet.

Sorry to hear that our good friend Squire McKibben, was forced to leave his office Tuesday morning on account of illness. The Squire is a fine man.

Some of these old married men want to know how to identify a lady of the evening. If you do not already know, you are too old to learn.

The reduction in the tax levies in Grenada County reflect much credit upon the board, its attorney and its clerk.

GET THAT PICTURE TAKEN.

Remember that, although Mississippi as a whole is prosperous today, the headaches and the heartaches will inevitably follow the war. Forget friendship and prejudice and vote for the BEST man for state and county offices. If he is a capable man, vote for him even if he did not lend you that dollar one time, or even if, through preoccupation, he did not speak to you, or know your name. Public office is NOT a GIFT; it is a responsibility which only the few are capable of assuming.

Attention service men and those wishing to make gifts to men in service. We print 100 sheets of stationery, with man's name and emblem of his service, and include 100 envelopes for $2.00; 200 each, $3.00.

To Patrons And School Bus Drivers of Grenada County

It is impossible for me to write each of you personally so am appealing to you through the press.

I am appealing to you as citizens, as school patrons and as bus drivers to cooperate with us in saving as much as possible our school bus tires. The County Rationing Board has most considerate of all our needs but warn us that we must take care of what we have.

At a recent conference of School Superintendents held in Jackson, Mr. J. D. Wise, Director of Tire Rationing for the State, stressed the fact that "The worst shortage of all commodities is found in the rubber products. Only 12 million tons of rubber have been imported since we first began to use rubber in the U. S. To make synthetic rubber requires that we use about half the weight of the product in rubber, so synthetic rubber making requires a great deal of rubber to manufacture it (not a very bright picture). The picture is dark, sounds rather bad, is just as bad.

Mr. Wise gave us many suggestions, some of which are:

1. Consolidate routes, stagger hours on schedules.
2. Cut loops and save mileage.
3. Restrict to eligible use only.
4. Drive to school and back only.
5. Conserve all tires in every way possible.
6. Check carefully and recap tires before the carcass of tire is ruined.
7. Do this quickly when needed.

I am asking your cooperation in that you help to save mileage. Cut out all loops not absolutely necessary to where "no child shall be required to walk a greater distance than one and one-half miles to reach the vehicle of transportation in the morning or to reach home in the afternoon," cut out all unnecessary driving. I am counting on you to do this much in our war effort as every American must learn the word SACRIFICE to win this war.

Mrs. Ethel Thomason, Deputy Superintendent of Education.

William Winter, of Grenada, In "Who's Who"

William Winter, of Grenada, has been selected to appear in the 1943 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" as one of the 30 students representing the University of Mississippi, according to an announcement by Dean R. M. Guess, who was in charge of the selections.

USO Entertained Enlisted Men At Camp McCain

On Saturday evening the United Service Organization entertained most delightfully in honor of the enlisted men who arrived at Camp McCain.

Mrs. J. K. Avent, Chairman, assisted by the presidents or representatives of the various clubs of the city were most gracious hostess. The evening's fun began early as the chaperones with a bevy of lovely girls, attired in very charming dance frocks arrived at seven-thirty. The first hour was given to receiving the soldiers and introducing them to the hostesses and young ladies. Receiving with Mrs. Avent were Major and Mrs. L. C. Proby, Dr. Avent and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Whitaker and Rev. and Mrs. C. S. Liles, and the following club presidents: Mrs. Frank Gerard-president of Woman's Club; Mrs. McCorkle, president of American Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. Glenn Thomason, president of Garden Club; Mrs. E. L. Betz, chairman of War Mothers; Mrs. Ernest Penn, representing the MacDowell Musicale; Mrs. H. H. Cullen, American Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. H. L. Honeycutt, vice president Twentieth Century Club; Mrs. Hamilton Graves, Band Boosters Club; Mrs. C. C. Richardson, P. T. A.; Mrs. Lena M. Cheek as chaperone and Mrs. J. L. Cooley as chaperone.

The grand march was led by Mrs. Liles and Colonel Ryder and a "girl break" dance was enjoyed all evening.

A very delightful intermission occurred just preceding the serving of refreshments when Private Frederic's Balazs, talented young Hungarian who is now stationed at Camp McCain, charmed the guests by playing several violin selections. Capt. Price announced the numbers which were so enthusiastiely applauded. The first number, "Song of India," was followed by "Humoresque," and "Dance of the Bumble Bee." Mrs. L. C. Proby played the piano accompaniment.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and fruit punch were sereyd in the dining room.

The Community House never looked more attractive than on this occasion. The ladies of the Garden Club arranged the bouquests of lovely roses, mixed garden flowers and patriotic colors draped from the lights.

This first USO party was a success and was indeed a very delightful occasion for both the hosts and guests

Rotogravure "Dead Line" Set For Nov. First

The coming week the rotogravure sections of the "All Out for Victory" Edition of the GCW will come to a close. This must be done in order to get all copy and pictures in the hands of the printers of the rotogravure section not later than November first. This type of printing cannot be done in our shop or in the State for that matter. After all copy has been placed in the printers' hands, it will be about thirty days before we receive the completed edition.

In order to bring this edition out on time, our representative for this special publication, Mr. Geo. S. Meyers, was unable to get around to see everyone for their part in the edition. However, it isn't too late yet for any of those who think that they would like a part in the edition to Phone this office, and he will gladly call upon you without any obligation on your part.

While the rotogravure sections are being finished Mr. Meyers will assist the GCW in compiling and soliciting representation in the regular black and white sections, which will accompany the pictorial brown sections as well as the regular section on the date of publication about thirty days hence. We again commend Mr. Meyers to you and we bespeak your cooperation in this edition, whether in the rotogravure sections or the black and white sections. This edition will have a lasting effect upon its thousands of readers and will afford an unusual aportunity to get your name and your business before a large and interested audience.

Many new pictures have been made and we have every reason to believe that the national publicity that will be secured by this edition will be one of the big events in the career of Grenada. Again this newspaper wants to thank the business men of the city for the unselfish spirit that is being shown in assisting to put out this welcome edition.

All Rental Property Must Be Registered By Nov. 1

The Maximum Rent Regulation requires that all landlords in this defense rental area register their rental dwelling property, October 15 to November 1 is the period set aside for this registration. Quote: "A landlord," says E. L. Morrow, Area Rent Director, "is anyone who receives rent for any living accommodations, whether it is a house, an apartment, a single room, or even trailer parking space." This applies to dwellings, rooming houses and hotels, or any other such place where people live and pay rent. This maximum rent regulation requires that separate registrations be made for each living unit. Registration offices have been established in the City Hall at Winona, the Peoples' Bank in North Carrollton, the City Hall in Greenwood and the Doak Building on the Court House grounds in Grenada. It is not necessary to come to these places of registration. Blanks have been distributed at convenient places throughout the entire area. The landlord may secure the registration blank, answer the questions as called for on the blank and return it to his nearest registration office.

No landlord is exempt from this registration, and all are required by law to conform to this phase of the Maximum Rent Regulation.

The information called for by the registration is for control of ceiling prices only and does not reuire that the property continue to be rented. The ceiling price as set by the Maximum Rent Regulation is appliable to the property in its present state and does not apply to any particular tenant. In the event the property is changed from its present state, a new ceiling price to conform with these changes is established by the Area Rent Director. Penalties are provided by the Rent Regulation to cover all case when the landlord fails to register.

DEATH ENDS LONG AND USEFUL CAREER OF MR. JAMES TALBERT THOMAS

Death wrote "Finis" on the long and useful career of Mr. James Talbert Thomas at Grenada Hospital on Saturday evening, October 17, 1942 Until about a week before his death, which followed a fall in his home on Main Street, he was but infrequently absent from his post of duty, first as Cashier, then President of Grenada Bank, for nearly 47 years. For almost half a century, he has been Grenada's outstanding leader.

He was born on the Thomas plantation, near the present Bay Springs, on May 29, 1870, and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. B. Thomas. Following a term as assistant to his father who was clerk of Grenada County's first Chancery Clerks, Mr. Thomas was elected and reelected to this important office. About fifty years ago, he did Miss Ruth Jones of Grenada to the altar. He was the first Cashier of Grenada Bank, organized in 1888. Following the death of the President, Mr. John W. Griffis, Mr. Thomas was elected President in 1908. He remained the active head of this institution until his death.

The honors that have come to him the posts of responsibility he has filled and his efforts to better his community and the several communities in which Grenada Bank had twelve branches are too numerous to mention. He was a director in the Mississippi Power and Light Company, and in the Mississippi Cottonseed Products Association. He was a charter member of the Rotary Club. He once served as President of the Mississippi Bankers' Association. Largely through his efforts the Jefferson Davis Highway (now U. S. 51 Highway) was brought through Grenada. His banks encouraged the production of dairy cattle and poultry. One tangible result of these efforts is to be found in Eupora which ships more poultry products than any town in Mississippi. If not in the South. Friendly and cheerful in his greetings to all men, rich and poor, his untiring interest made possible the building and the maintenance of the home for aged colored people in Grenada. He was the oldest member of the All Saints Episcopal Church and was Vestryman Emeritus at the time of his death. A Memorial Service, held only for those of great prominence in that church, was held for Mr. Thomas Sunday morning last at the church. The above is a very incomplete list of his honors. Almost every person, white or colored, in Grenada County could add an individual item to the list.

The Grenada County Weekly sees no reason why it should change a word in the following tribute paid Mr. Thomas on December 8, 1938, when his eyes, now closed forever, could read and his mind could understand:

"We do not owe, never have owed and do not contemplate owing the man mentioned herein a single dollar. While we hope he will vote for 'Me and Mine' we are not seeking to influence him in that.

If he is a hard-boiled Dr. Jekyls when he goes uptown in banking and business circles in collecting the money entrusted to his banks then he is the gentle Mr. Hyde when calls are made upon his own purse, and always has been. A ten dollar bill sent by a down and out friend, a radio bought and installed for some shut-in, such deeds of his have multiplied a thousand times His benefactions are known only to himself and to his Maker.

It is out of line as a banker that we speak for we know nothing personally of that phase of his career. But we do know that his parents and our grandparents were close friends he and our parents were life long friends, his children and we hope our children and his grandchildren will be friends.

While still at work his employees have had the benefit of his kindly counsel, treats them fairly, for he seems to enjoy not only the respect but the love of his men.

For well nigh half a century his name has headed most of the lists in Grenada. No one will ever know how much of his means has been given publicly, much less how much has been given privately.

We hand this flower to our old friend, J. T. Thomas, whom we have known all of our life and wish him and his people continued health and happiness and assure him that we have no use to grind, if he were unfortunate enough to suspect such."

Sunday afternoon, the simple, dempcratic service of the Episcopal church was held for him by Rev. C. S. Liles, of Grenada, assisted by Rev. Duncan Gray, of Greenwood. A crowd, only a third of which could find room within the church came to pay their respects to their friend and counsellor. Under a huge canopy of beautiful flowers, his body was laid to rest in Odd Fellows Cemetery.

Pallbearers were ten assistant cashiers of the branch banks, Messrs F. E. Fisher, C. P. Fortner, R. D. Fullilove, R. T. Gaston, W. W. Woods, W. R. Brannon, M. T. Eddleman, A. H. Carlee, J. T. Cook, D. D. Crawford, H. B. Haynes and J. L. McCracken, and two of his loyal employees at Grenada Bank, Messrs Jack Sanderson and A. N. Cayhorn.

Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Ruth Jones Thomas; two sons, J. T. Thomas, of Crozer, and Lt. W. J. Thomas of the United States Navy; one daughter, Miss Elizabeth Thomas; one brother, Lawrence Thomas, of Dallas; two sisters Mrs. W. D. Sallis, of Grenada and Mrs. P. L. Russell, of Dallas.

Thus ended a useful life.

Beer Retailers Meet With Local Officials Wednesday

Grenada County beer retailers, at a mass meeting held at the City Hall Wednesday morning, adopted a program of all-out assistance to military and civil authorities in their effort to provide clean, decent and wholesome recreation facilities for the thousands of soldiers who soon will occupy Camp McCain.

Mayor L. C. Proby presided at the meeting, which was sponsored by the Mississippi Committee Brewing Industry Committee. More than 60 persons, including a number of high military officers and local law enforcement officials, attended the gathering, which was one of a series held by the Mississippi Committee in military areas of the State.

Col. Ryder, Commanding Officer of Camp McCain, outlined the Camp's policy with regard to the conduct of establishments that might be visited by military personnel during their leisure hours.

The Commanding Officer would not hesitate to place "off limits" on any places whose conduct was detrimental to soldiers' welfare.

Attending the meeting with Col. Ryder were Captain Frederick W. Waite, director of intelligence and internal security for Camp McCain; Captain Laurens A. Hamilton, Corps of Military Police, Camp McCain, and Lt. C. M. Sidell of the U. S. Public Health Service.

Sheriff T. T. Hayward, who cooperated with Mayor Proby and the Mississippi Committee in arranging the meeting, attended along with members of the board of aldermen and other officials.

The Soldiers

The first few drops of soldiers have fallen in Grenada. This few will grow to a flood that will overtax the ability of this small community to care for and entertain, yet this community is determined to do the very best it can.

Those who attended the USO dance for enlisted men Saturday night and those who attended the officers' dance Tuesday night saw a fair cross-section of the immense personnel soon to be here. I was present at each dance. I did not see any man who was drinking. I saw one "acting up." Does that mean anything to you, the reader, who has attended civilian dances?

American soldiers, like the soldiers of every race, ally or enemy, are the cream of the crop. Those with criminal records are rejected just as quickly as those who are blind or legless. The American commissioned officers, like the officers of every race, ally or enemy, are the cream of the soldier crop.

Some soldiers like their licker, but they had better keep shy of the MP's. But, after all, is the love of licker a peculiar trait of the man in uniform. Most soldiers, associating almost constantly with men, like to associate with the winmen. That is not a peculiar characteristic of the man in uniform. Some crooks and slickers get into the army, but with the cooperation now existing between the military authorities and the civil authorities, the activities of such slickers can be drastically restrained, and will be.

Line up the thirty or forty thousand men soon to be here, then line up a similar number of civilians. You will find that the average soldier is better in every respect than the average civilian.

Advertising Pays

There is no question about the newspaper and advertising as there is about the chicken and the egg. We know there must be a newspaper before it can have advertising patronage. We know, also, that it must be an acceptable newspaper which people will buy and read before advertising can be sufficiently fertile to produce results for those who pay for it.

The merchant cannot expect to sell his merchandise before he has so displayed it to his prospective customers as to give them an opportunity to see if it satisfies their wants. That commodity known as advertising is much more than just space on a printed sheet. The space is going into the home of at least a considerable portion of people of the community. It is still valueless unless the content of that printed sheet is of sufficient interest to compel those receiving it to read it. That represents the difference between newspaper space and space in a give-away shopper.

When people pay for a newspaper, they demonstrate their appreciation of its value. It is of interest to them and that interest means influence reflected to its advertising columns, and from which the advertiser profits.

As an advertising medium, the real newspaper offers space in which the merchant tells his sales story. It offers circulation for that sales story, the assurance of its distribution to at least a large percentage of homes of the community. It offers an assurance of readers in the fact that people receiving the newspaper want it enough to pay for it. That they want it enough to pay for it insures the influence of the newspaper on the minds and thoughts of those who buy and read it—an influence from which the advertiser profits.

But the newspaper must have these values to offer before the publisher can expect to sell space in its columns. Advertising follows the creation and building of the newspaper.

The larger the price the people pay for a newspaper, the greater the evidence of its interest and value to them, and its influence in the community—the things which make it of value as an advertising medium.

Breaking Another Pluperfect Oath

I stated that I was not going to publish another damn line about the rental control business. I lied about it, for I am this week publishing ONE more—the last. I and the other editors of the nation are expected to publish FREE everything that some fat-salaried bureaucrat thinks the people ought to know. The only reason I am publishing this one LAST article is that I do not want any of our people, unwittingly, to be put in jail and fined $10,000.00 because of ignorance.

These "country savers" not only want publicity FREE, but expect three or four FREE copies of the issue containing their mouthings so that they can show to their superiors how good they are in breaking into print.

I note that the government does not expect the high powered executives (?) to work for nothing, but on the contrary pay them about twice what they are worth. I notice that they pay typists who can, by diligent effort, peck out a report about $100-200 a month. I note that they pay rent and other expenses regularly.

Yet the newspapers, which really carry the messages to the people, get NOTHING, not even a polite "Thank You"; and this in spite of the fact that newspapers as a whole are having a hellacious time getting by.

If anything else pertaining to the rent control office appears in these columns—unless it is an obituary of the OPA—you, the reader, can bet that somebody paid for the notice.

Vote Against 'Em

"Beware of the gods bearing gifts."

Beware of those who tear their shirts to change Mississippi's fundamental law, the Constitution of the State.

On General Election day, amendments purporting to "Take Politics Out of the Colleges" are to be voted upon by the people.

Not one person in a hundred knows hwatthehell these amendments mean. Only a handful in the entire state could identify the "bug under the chip."

If you do not know what you are voting on, vote against any change.

Miscellaneous Thoughts

Since Herbert B. Allen says I went high hat by using the phrase "Heterogeneous Thoughts," for this type of editorial, I will simplify the title.

Washington no doubt has awaited word from me about the much discussed topic of the second front. My opinion is that when and where the second front will be opened are questions that no arm chair strategist is competent to settle, but these questions must be answered by the military authorities. If we have no confidence in the military leaders we have, we should fire them and get some in whom we do have confidence. An abortive attempt to land an invasion army on the continent of Europe would be absolutely disastrous.

About all that can be said of a man 40-45 years of age is that he is a good man "for his age." Few of that age group can stand the pressure of combat duty. However, unless exceptional care is exercised in selecting men of that age group for armed service, the result will be a piling up of hospital and pension liabilities for the government.

The Board of Supervisors of Grenada County is to be heartily commended for the reduction in the tax levy in EVERY taxing district in this county. In this era of mounting taxes it is indeed refreshing to find ONE taxing body that is able to reduce taxes. Attention is invited to the published tax levy of Grenada County which appears elsewhere. Property in the city was taxed 29 mills last year, 22 mills this year, a reduction of 7 mills or 25 percent. This levy will be on non-homestead property. The levy on homes will be, if I do not misread the figures, only 6.5 mills. Skipping about, I find that the levy on non-homestead property has been reduced 4 mills in Beat 4; 4 mills in Beat 3; 3 mills in Beat 5; 3 mills in the Wolfe-Hardy School District which takes in most of Beat 4 and 4 mills in the Gore Springs School District. Taxpayers in the usually overburdened Calvary School District will pay 7 mills less on non-homestead property. Reducing of debts and refunding of bonds by the Board have resulted in a great saving to the taxpayers all over the county. The members of the board, the attorney, Mr. Mims, and the Chancery Clerk, Mr. Pressgrove, are to be sincerely congratulated, for they have eased up where it hurts most, that is in the pocketbook.

In spite of the fact that many disagree with me, I think that, if it is going to bankrupt the government to maintain price levels, Uncle Sam might as well appeal to the bankruptcy court and be done with it.

As an evidence of the growing demands for boxes at the post office there are, for the first time, no boxes for rent.

Grenada County is indeed fortunate in being in the Chancery District of Judge Smith, a fair and level headed man, and in the Circuit Court District Judge John F. Allen, than whom Mississippi never produced a better man.

I still believe that the recruiting officers and the draft boards and the reception centers should be supplied with distinctive buttons or badges (supplemented with written evidence) to be given the men who have been rejected or deferred. A young man with a wife and several children gives no visible evidence of his status as provider for a family, nor does an apparently healthy young man give visible evidence of some hidden disease. Yet these men, walking the streets without evidence that they have been rejected or deferred, are looked at like a bull looks at a bastard calf.

And, also, I do believe that ALL young men of draft age should be sent to the reception center, as their respective numbers come up, so that the army doctors can decide whether they are fit material for military duty. To do otherwise brings unnecessary rebuke upon the unpaid men who serve as draft board members. If I were on the draft board, I do not believe I would let any monkeys stay on my back. As stated above, if the proper army doctors rejected a man, that man should receive some badge or button (backed up with written evidence).

I guess I was on a cold trail when I advocated the abolition of the county agent's office. However, with tire rationing already very severe and with gasoline rationing just around the corner, the county agents of the state will be like painted ships on painted oceans.

We have decided to make Friday, November 1, the "dead line" on the rotogravure supplement. At this very moment we are assured of 24 pages. There is a possibility that the issue will be 32 pages.

Ike Stone said it cost his papa $500.00 to send him to the A. and M. College for FOUR years, and that his daughter had already cost him $600.00 at Ole Mess for a couple of months.

I am mighty glad to see that the city and county authorities are cooperating with the Provost Marshal, Captain Hamilton, at Camp Headquarters. Without such cooperation, we would get into a mess mighty soon. Having been a soldier for two years, I know that, at best, a soldier has little enough respect for civil authority, but he does straighten up when the MPs come around the corner.

A pessimistic note to the grocerymen. When the construction workers leave, you will not sell as great a volume of your goods. The soldiers, officers and enlisted men alike, who maintain families here will have the privilege of buying at the commissary at the camp at prices that bear little profit.

Col. Wise, the Commander of the Air Base, is a Mississippian. He is a native of Yazoo City. In World War No. 1, he commanded the 114th Machine Gun Battalion of the 39th Division. For many years he has been Secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

I see absolutely no reason or logic in celebrating Armistice Day. What meaning does that day now have?

This is, like Captain Guy Nason used to say, "a fine war." Soldiers are better clothed, better fed, better trained and better equipped. They are entitled to periodic leaves to go home and eat about. In "our" war, a soldier would have been put in the brig if he even looked like he wanted a leave to visit his folks, there was a death in his immediate family. Guy Nason would have to add some superlative to his term "fine war" now.

I have attended two dances and one birthday party during the last week. I am beginning to enjoy mixing and mingling with youth and beauty.

The "jack barn" is to become a doughnut and coffee dispensary, I hear.

When the camp gets filled, ONLY 5400 soldiers will be allowed to come to town at the same time. Holy Do.!

Happy motoring!!

g The Points Of The Spears

The various governmental agencies, which are bankrupting the government, have one unfailing, yet loptious methods of abating popular clamor about their extravagances. The method is simple. Some close relative of a person who would raise merry hell about the mounting costs is appointed to some minor position in the organization. "Cousin Clara," Sister Sal," Brother Bob", or "Uncle Willie" is given a job paying him about three times what he is worth, and immediately the clamor from the clan to which the boondoggler belongs is silenced.

The more hell a person of influence raises, the better job that some impecunious member of his family gets.

THE HOME FRONT
REGIONAL OFFICE OF WAR INFORMATION

Drafting of 18-19 year-olds will not only help the army be more effective—casualties are less among young than middle-aged soldiers—but many of the boys will learn useful skills nd trades.

America has a tender spot reserved for its youth, but untrained boys of 15 were sent into action in the War Between the States with insufficient food and poor equipment. Our 18-19 year olds will have the best today. All will be thoroughly trained.

That's why we have rationing, shortages—to give soldiers all the breaks in the world. And that's why we have price ceilings—to keep the shortages from hurting the poor more than the well-to-do.

SPARE TIRES

The government drive to round up extra tires got off to a slow start in the South. Old tires are "Golden Slippers" now. The Railway Express Agency is packing up spares. The government is paying for them.

Five tires per car are allowable—extras must be sold and there's a stiff penalty for holding more than five.

TRUCK CERTIFICATES

Farmers with pick-up trucks, as well as owners of regular commercial vehicles, must fill out a "Certificate of War Necessity' or they won't be able to get tires, gasoline or parts after national gas rationing goes into effect.

Travel by bus and train, already somewhat difficult, may be further restricted.

STOGIES SAFE

Manufacture of over-stuffed furniture will be halted November 1, but the cigar which dad smokes when reclining in the old easy chair is safe for a long time, says WPB.

Repair parts for golf clubs are out for the duration.

Members of ration boards are barred by OPA from acting officially in any rationing matters in which they have a personal interest.

WAR-TIME HUNTING SEASON

All hunters are being asked to pick up all discharged rifle and shot-gun shells and give them to the scrap collections. Bird hunters are requested to save down feathers and to retrieve crippled waterfowls, and deer hunters are asked to save vension fats.

To conserve copper, the U. S. Mint wants children to cash penny-bank collections for larger coins and paper dollars.

AID TO STOREKEEPERS

OPA announced that the local War Board has complete information on a new alternative method of pricing sugar, breakfast cereals, coffee, lard, canned vegetables and fish, and other items. This will help storekeepers.

Friendship Club Meets

The Friendship Club met this month with Mrs. Jack Mitchell. Twelve members were present.

The roll call was answered by "What I am Doing to Help the War Effort."

Mrs. Johns condcted the devotional, which centered around the 4th Chapter of Hebrew.

Mrs. Neely distributed some very attractive quilt patterns and Mrs. Lee Wilson gave us an interesting account of a discussion by Mr. Monosmith, from State College on gardening and food preservation.

Mrs. Neely held a most entertaining contest to see how well each member "knew her vegetables." Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Johns had highest score.

Each member is asked to bring something she has made to the November meeting as ideas for Christmas gifts.

TAKE IT

Take our gas and take of tires,
Take our food and take our fires,
Take our clothes and take our shoes,
Take our cars and some of our news;
Take whatever the Government needs,
Even our garden and flower seeds,
Take our cotton and our corn,
We didn't have 'em when he were born;
Take our house and our lot,
Take most anything we've got;
Take our horses and our mules,
Take our colleges and our schools,
And if it takes more to put under the skids,
Take our goats but leave us the 'Kids.'

The OPA, to conserve vital material, might make it illegal for gals with scrawny legs to wear short dresses and gals with shapely legs to wear long ones.

The 18-19 year old boys might as well begin packing their grips. Maybe they will finally get around to some, apparently overlooked, who registered in the first registration.

I think also that the OPA should establish a big organization to do something about the law of gravity to keep folks from falling when they stub their toes.

The OPA should make it illegal to have twins. Twins require twice as much food as singlets.

Holcomb has been slighted. I think an office force costing at least $15,000 a year should be set up there.

Maybe the OPA can do something about getting single men sent to Shelby for examination before married men are sent.

Though his handiwork surrounds us,
Grenada's grand old man is dead.

Camp McCain News

This week the news is mostly of the gossipy nature, and less factual. Fewer people took week-ends, and more stayed in Grenada to enjoy the holidays here. Two of the reasons may be the two dances that the USO of Grenada gave to welcome the Officers and the enlisted men. Both were given at the Community House, the soldiers being welcomed Saturday, and the Officers on Tuesday. We wrote a bit about the affair Saturday night, which started out rather quietly, with the girls outnumbering the boys nearly two to one—developed into quite a party as the number of boys kept increasing.

Tuesday evening was more sedate, and the chaperones had more time to settle themselves comfortably on the couches and relax. Most of the officers had their wives with them, including Lt. Col. Wise, Col. Ryder, Lt. Col. Wade, Major McCoy, and Col. Campbell, Mrs. Barkalow, wife of Brig. Gen. Barkalow, was the guest of Col. and Mrs. Ryder. Then there were some of the younger fry, the dignified Captains and over-serious Lieutenants, with wives at home or en route to Grenada. Then, in the very small minority were the single young officers, with a gang of local gals trying to ferret them out. It was altogether, in spite of our joking, a very enjoyable affair, with delicious food. The highlight of both evenings was the violin-playing of Pvt. Frederick Balazs, quite recently arrived from Hungary.

Mr. W. A. Jennison, known alternately as "Partial Payment" or "Change Order" Jennison, spent nearly a week in the Kingsport office. According to reports, he went up to "show 'em how we did it."

Mr. C. L. Tardiff, who suffered a relapse and was taken to the hospital two weeks ago on the ninth of the month, is recovering, and his condition is less serious. The over-conscientious Mr. Tardiff returned to work too soon after his last illness, and the strain of the work was too heavy.

Another much regretted illness in the Main family, is that of Mr. Mac-Nicholas' little five year old daughter, Mitzi. She has been suffering from chronic appendicitis, it is believed.

Mr. Jesse Drake, head of the Electrical Dept., has also been much concerned about his little nine year old daughter, Betty, now in the hospital in Jackson. She fell while playing in the play-pen and crushed her skull. Mr. Drake says that she is recovering rapidly now.

Speaking of the family lives of CTM we ought to mention Mr. G. W. Day. He makes out more Progress Reports, smokes more cigars, and has one of the prettiest daughters of most any man we know. His daughter, Jacqueline, who is now a senior at Highland Park High School, may come down with Mrs. Day, to visit Grenada soon.

You all know by this time that J. D. Crenshaw, Chief of Police of Grenaad for a number of years, is at present working for Jones supervising their Clearing and Grubbing.

Miss Hazel Newton, one of Mr. John Pellett's secretaries, is planning to be married this week-end. She is leaving Friday to marry a boy in South Bend, Indiana. The whole camp wishes Hazel the best of luck, and much deserved happiness.

Louise Hiter, of CTM now has a new room-mate, Miss Jean Evans of Philadelphia, Miss Jean began work this Monday at the Quartermaster Property Office.

Miss Caroline Whitaker is coming home this week-end from All Saint's College. Her friends are planning a party for her on Saturday, or Sunday, according to how date-crowded Caroline's schedule is.

Mr. "Bobby" Moor, Architectural Designer, received a phone call (woman's voice) this week, and Building No. 4 was speculating. However the voice soon dispelled our doubt. Tell him when he comes in, it said that his bird dog is ready to be picked up. It seems that Bobby has a new brown liver marked bird dog, and he was supposed to collect it that night.

Miss Carrie Young, of the U. S. Engineer Switchboard, spent the week-end at her home in Sardis.

Capt. Trice and Charlie Smith, of the U. S. Govt., have both been attending a three day school in Vicksburg, on a new program, the Job Instruction Program. There will be a school established here, it is expected, and we will give you the complete details next week.

Now on to lighter matters: Davie Lou Trewitha spent Wednesday shopping in Jackson.

Our Project manager, Mr. L. J. Phillips returned Thursday from a business trip to Boston, lasting several days. While there, he was with Mr. Fred Jost, vacationing there, and some of his old friends. The whole office welcomes Mr. Phillips back again.

Mr. G. N. Brent is a new member of the Electrical Department. He was born in Illinois, and moved to Indiana, and traveled around working in a dozen different cities. At present, he is a Engineer Designer for Chas. T. Main.

Myrtle Kelly spent a few days in Vicksburg last week visiting her family. Her brother, Carl Kelly, is going to enlist in the Marines next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Buckingham, had quite a chase this Wednesday after "The Strange Woman", a book of theirs that was kidnapped. They chased Melba Anderson all the way from camp to her rooming house in town in pursuit of their little lady.

Assisting the host and hostesses to entertain, were Mr. and Mrs. Craig, Messrs. Pewee Sampson, the life of the party, the Weir Brothers, Hot Water Stewart, Bobbie Moor and Razorgack Sadler. A good time was had by all. Hot Water Stewart served Tom Neely's ale for the refreshment. Mr. and Mrs. Rhett were presented with numerous gifts for their new home at Stovall.
